

Shock Collars Can't Be Justified

EXCUSE # 8

"WE SHOULDN'T HAVE TO BAN SHOCK COLLARS BECAUSE OF A FEW BAD APPLES WHO MISUSE THEM"

How does one define a 'bad apple'? How do we define misuse? Could it be someone who is a bully? Someone who is insensitive and trying to get the job done quickly? Someone who is indifferent to an animal's ability to feel? Someone who is misled by a shock collar promoter? Someone who uses the continuous button, continuously? Someone who believes they are skilled because they read the instruction manual? Someone who shocks a puppy? Someone who straps one or two on the groin? Someone who lets a child control the remote? Someone who uses the highest intensities? Oh, the countless ways to misuse a shock collar. Those who claim misuse is by only a "few bad apples" can't count. In a humane world, if you use a shock collar, you are a bad apple!
